

SERMONS ON POLITICS ENDED EDUCATORS SIGN PLAN TO BLIND LEAGUE APPEAL VOTERS, CLAIM

Rev. Carver of Presbyterian Church Brings Series to Close

In the closing sermon at the Presbyterian church on "Great Parties and Policies," last evening, the Rev. John Carver dealt with several of the many minor parties that have from time to time influenced the thought and served as forerunners of some of the great issues of the nation.

"It was Lincoln," he said, "who gave us the best definition of the American commonwealth though the thought cannot be said to be original with him. Our country is a government of the people, by the people and for the people. Some times in the selection of a president, a man is selected because of what he is rather than what the party policies may be. Such was the case with the election of Washington. Andrew Jackson was elected rather because of his personality than by reason of what he stood for. He was considered to be the embodiment of the new west and expansion. Roosevelt, though closely allied with great parties, was elected more because of the Roosevelt personality than because of the party trends. Lincoln, however, was first elected purely because of the platform of party and much was the case with Jefferson who was the embodiment of the reaction of the Adams rule.

The one principle that lends understanding to the course of American politics is that more and more the government is becoming a true example of Lincoln's definition. We see it in all the great party movements and in the developments. We see it in the direct primary, the direct election of senators, the suffrage amendment and many lesser advances. In fact, the election of this year is so much more an election by the people that it is completely different from the elections held in the days of our forefathers. The development of our national convention, and the election place where each citizen has a voice if desired, was traced and the growth of this and other national policies affecting election was illustrated by the life story of leaders of American history, who have a large part in the advancement of individual participation.

$8.60 For a Shave; 'The Saphhead' Paid It

Eight dollars and sixty cents for a shave is expensive even in this day of high prices. But that's what Buster Benton had to pay in the production of "The Saphhead," now being shown at the Utah theatre.

Soap further couldn't be used because when the theatrical artist got busy with the razor, off came Buster's makeup as well as the soap. The director finally hit upon whipped cream as a substitute.

Double cream at $2.20 a gallon, forty cents to have it whipped at a nearby restaurant, $5 for a professional barber, totaling $8.60 explains the cost.

Buster, reclining in a chair in his well-appointed bedroom sat with a steaming towel around his head looking the picture of comfort. He flicked the defunct shaving lotion from his lips as fast as the barber applied it. You should see it.

PISO'S

Republicans, Progressives and Independents Issue Indorsement of Gov. Cox

A high light on the climax of Governor Cox's campaign in the middle west which ended Saturday night in Chicago, was the issuance today of an appeal in his behalf by over fifty Republicans, Progressives and Independents, men and women prominent in political, society and educational circles, according to a telegram received today by Chairman Martin P. Brown of the Democratic campaign committee.

The appeal is signed by Morton D. Hull, who four years ago, was a leading candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Illinois; Mrs. Emma Blaine, daughter-in-law of James G. Blaine, and member of the noted McCormick family; Allen B. Pond, former acting president; Thomas H. Haight of Northwestern University and a number of other prominent professors; Dean A. W. Small, of the University of Chicago; Professor Andrew C. McLaughlin, head of the University of Chicago; Professor Shailer

NECESSITY FOR LEAGUE.

The basis of the appeal is the necessity for the entry of the United States into the league of nations, which is as follows:

"We, the undersigned Republicans, Progressives and Independents, voters of Chicago, Cook county, state of Illinois, and the United States. In this supreme moment in the history of our country and of civilization, the one issue of paramount importance is the course which the United States should take as to its entrance into the existing league of nations. All other questions can be dealt with progressively. This must be settled by the voters now. Other affairs should make way for this immediate business of the United States. We have two courses which we can take for a result: (1) Elect a candidate whose utterances have been against the league, or so shaded from that as to indicate only political reasons for such utterances, backed by a party holding all kinds of opinions about the league. This course would leave the sacred responsibility which we bear in the world to uncertain chance of the Republican situation of today with all of the perilous aspects which it contains on this subject. A vote for this candidate will be a negative vote on the issue of the league of nations.

(2) Elect a candidate who has strongly expressed at all times his desire and intention if elected to do what he can to take America in the league with such proper and undisturbed reservations as to the meaning of obligation of the United States under the covenant as may appear wise and feasible, backed by a party committed to our entrance into the league of nations. This candidate will be the positive vote for the entrance of the United States into the league of nations.

We believe this question transcends all claims of party, loyalty and allegiance and that all other questions should be allowed to await their turn. We appeal for a vote which will record the decision of the people of the United States in this crisis in the progress of civilization to stand fast for the fundamental principle of democracy throughout the civilized world, the reduction of armaments and the avoidance of war, the achievement of a basis of cooperation between nations to build constructive measures for the advancement of mankind." PEACE AT HAND OVER IN CHINA

Peking Announces There Is Reunion of North and South Sections.

PEKING, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press).—The Peking government has just issued a proclamation declaring that there has been a reunion of north and south China and calling for the election of a new parliament on the basis of the old election regulations. The proclamation cites an announcement by General Tsen Chun-Huan, the chief of the southern military government, of the dissolution of that government and the reunification by the provinces of Kwang Tung and Kwang Hsi of their declarations of independence.

The Peking proclamation has elicited a manifesto from the Constitutional leaders, Dr. Sun Yat Sen and Tang Shao-Yi, at Shanghai, declaring the Constitutional government was still in existence and that they did not recognize the Peking proclamation as having any force. The alleged unity, it declared, was based upon a peace agreement made by "irresponsible persons" and the manifesto charges that the proclamation constitutes an attempt to deceive foreigners for ulterior purposes and give life to an illegal government.

The view of the situation held here is that the Peking government has hopes of conciliating the southern factions.

Democrats Deny Circulating Reports About Ancestry of W. G. Harding

COLUMBUS, Ohio, November 1.—Chairman W. W. Durbin, of the Ohio Democratic state executive committee, today issued a statement denying that a young man closely connected with the Democratic state committee, "had brought certain printed and mimeographed circulars concerning the ancestry of Senator Harding, to Governor Cox's special mail train, as contained in a statement issued last night by Scott C. Bone, director of publicity for the Republican national committee. Chairman Durbin said:

JUST A CONSPIRACY.

"This hue and cry being raised in the eleventh hour of a campaign is merely a conspiracy of Republican politicians to blind the voters to real issues and attempt to stem the tremendous tide that is flowing to Cox and the league of nations.

"The fight made by the Democratic state and county committee in Ohio has been clean, fair and above-board. This too, is in spite of the fact that the opposition has stooped to the foulest, lowest tactics.

HAD NO CONNECTION.

"I repeat that we had no connection with the alleged circulation of pamphlets or reports. Furthermore, I submit that reports of a similar nature have been current for thirty years, and they have figured in previous campaigns of Senator Harding and that they were prevalent all over the state and nation during the pre-convention campaign, circulated by Republicans who opposed him. Now, however, when such reports have been prevalent all during the campaign and were also in circulation at the convention that nominated him, Republicans attempt to bring a last minute cry against the Democrats.

"We regret its entrance. We have not had anything to do with its transmission and we are sure that the use of it in the last hour will not swerve the voters from the overwhelming swing to Cox on the main issues."

COX WOULD LET RUSS IN LEAGUE

Candidate Says He Favors Nation Working Out Its Own Salvation

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Russia should be admitted to the league of nations and be enabled to "work out her own salvation in her own way," Governor Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, declared in a letter to the League of Free Nations association, made public here today.

The governor's letter, written in reply to one sent him by the association, said:

"It is my purpose to give every attention to the Russian situation. I have stated in my address my conviction that Russia should be enabled to work out her own salvation in her own way and be admitted to membership in the league of nations. America is interested in and should help the oppressed and starving of any nation. I shall support any policy which makes America the moral and humanitarian leader of the world, but cannot in propriety at this time express what in friendly quarters might be set upon as an ungracious criticism."

CROWBARS USED TO FIGHT POLICE

After Crew is Overcome Police Find 400 Bottles of Fine Brandy

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Customs officers who made a raid on the White Star liner Celtic today for contraband liquor were set upon by members of the crew and beaten back with crowbars and other weapons. Police boats and a detail of patrolmen responded on a riot call and a request was made on the navy yard for a squad of marines.

With the arrival of a detail of sailors armed with bayoneted rifles, the officials overpowered the crew, some of whom attempted to resist with knives and found 400 bottles of cognac under the floor of the engine room where 500 bottles were removed yesterday. A quantity of drugs secreted in garlic also was found.

WAR VETERANS RALLY TO COX

Original Staff of the "Stars and Stripes" Say: "The Command Is Forward, Men; Let's Go!"

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 1.—The fourteen members of the editorial staff and business department of the original "Stars and Stripes," the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary Forces in the World War, yesterday issued to all ex-service "comrades" an open letter appealing to them to support GOVERNOR JAMES M. COX AND THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

The letter recites vividly those "tense and terrible days of 1918 from Chateau Thierry to Sedan" and concludes with the old battle motto, "THE COMMAND IS FORWARD, MEN, LET'S GO!"

Extracts from editorials published by the "Stars and Stripes" advocating the adoption of the League of Nations plan, which attracted widespread attention at the time they were published, are made a part of the letter. "AT THAT TIME," THE LETTER SAYS, "THE WAR WAS PITCHED UPON A LOFTY SPIRITUAL PLANE AS A CRUSADE FOR A CAUSE RATHER THAN AN INTERNATIONAL BRAWL FOR SELFISH INTEREST."

"After the war," the letter adds, "we all came home to that for which the war was fought; to months and months of weary and fruitless debate in the United States; and finally, a sight of the supreme objective of our war ideals, the League, slashed, butchered, soiled and bleeding, but still living, thank God, dragged out into the political and partisan arena of the presidential campaign.

"We are not concerned with by whose fault it is there.

"We are not concerned with verbal quibbles over article this or article that, reservation this or reservation that.

"We are, however, deeply concerned for the League of Nations—the first great step that has ever been undertaken by practically all the civilized nations of the world to end war.

"We are concerned, and tremendously concerned, because of what we regard as a threatened separate peace with Germany.

"We are still for the League as we were for it in France. We are for going into it, not staying out of it; for accepting and manfully carrying out its obligations, not rejecting and turning our backs on them.

"And we are supporting and asking you to support the man who is for the League, Governor James M. Cox of Ohio. We are against the candidate who is against the League, Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio."

This letter is signed by Hudson Hawley of Connecticut; John T. Winterich of Massachusetts; Stephen E. Early, Washington, D. C.; J. M. Rixey Smith of Virginia; Rex Lammpan of Minnesota; Wilson Rogers of Maryland; Robert J. Sand, Jr., Ohio; John Palmer Cumming, Alabama; R. S. Jones, Washington; Sid Houston, Missouri; Melvin F. Rider, Ohio; Walter F. Dunn, Pennsylvania; William F. Germain, New York, and Marr L. Katz of Massachusetts.

Hundreds of the leading Republican editors, educators and publicists of America have reached the conclusion that the League can be obtained only through the election of Governor James M. Cox. And that the election is indeed a solemn referendum on the League.

That is our reason for putting principle above politics and supporting Governor Cox. The Utah Pro-League Independent headquarters, 24 East First South street, will be open today and Tuesday. Copies of the League and Independent literature may be obtained free.

G. O. P. BATTLES HARD IN TEXAS

Lone Star State to Remain With Solid South Is Prediction

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 1.—Voting on three state amendments, one a school amendment which has attracted wide attention, and possibly the hardest campaign ever made in Texas by the Republican party, as well as the campaign by the American party, have served to render the national election in Texas tomorrow something more than the perfunctory affair it has been for years past. While it was considered possible there might be close contests in some congressional districts and local elections, there was no doubt today that Texas would remain in the "solid south" and Pat McNeff, Democrat, of Waco, be elected governor, Democratic leaders said.

IDAHO RACE FOR SENATOR BITTER

Nugent and Gooding in Closest Contest of Past Years

BOISE Idaho, Nov. 1.—A bitter campaign in Idaho drew to a close today with the contest for United States senator overshadowing that for the presidency. John P. Nugent, incumbent, Democrat, and Frank R. Gooding, Republican, are the senatorial candidates, Nugent having defeated Gooding by 970 votes two years ago when there was an election to fill a senatorial vacancy. Leaders of both parties say they expect a much closer contest for this office than for any other on the ticket.

COX TO WATCH ELECTION NEWS

Last Appearance in Toledo Regarded by Supporters As Good Luck Sign

DAYTON, O., Nov. 1.—After a day of rest at his home here, Governor Cox was to leave today for Toledo for the last speech of his campaign.

Though the campaign virtually ended at Chicago on Saturday, the governor said he had agreed to make the formal close in Toledo on election eve because party followers there regarded his appearance as good luck, asserting his only chance of defeat was when he failed to end his speaking engagement in that city.

Preparations were made today at the governor's newspaper office for the receipt of results on election night. Special telegraph instruments set up in the office included a receiving apparatus used in the election won by Grover Cleveland more than a quarter of a century ago.

The governor will return to this city from Toledo early election morning and expects to vote as he goes to his farm from the train. He plans to spend the day at home, coming to his newspaper plant as soon as the first polls in the country close.
